Psalm 119:97

Open It

- I. Praise refers to lifting God up. It is the joyful recounting of what God has done for us. Therefore, worship, is to honor or show reverence for who God is.
 - II. Praise and worship create an intimate space between you and God, allowing Him to speak directly to your heart in such a way you are drawn nearer to Him. This makes praise and worship in a private and corporate setting very important. Read Hebrews 10:25. The command, then, here is, to meet together for the worship of God, and it is enjoined on Christians as an important duty to do it. It is implied, also, that there is blame or fault where this is "neglected."
Barnes' Notes on the New Testament.
 - III. When the church comes together, there ought to be, burdens lifted, bondage broken, fears released, heart breaks mended, grace realized, and love placed in its proper place. How do we create the proper atmosphere for true praise and worship to enter into our gathering?
